

Building The Future One Player At A Time

Tax ID: 47-4137893

Our Mission:

Building The Future One Player At A Time through basketball education, providing guidance, mentorship and opportunities to coaches, parents and players.

Our Goal:

Increase the number of youth who participate in sport of basketball. Assist youth in balancing academics and participation in sports activities. Increase resources available to parents to assist them in supporting their young athlete. Create programs and activities that embrace culture and diversity, promote unity and support youth into the future.

Profile:

Two01 Basketball Academy, Inc. was founded by Stacey Daniels former international basketball athlete. It was his widespread goal to help develop the children of New York City to enhance the overall climate of basketball in New York. Our founder used the sport of basketball to get a Master's Degree in Physical Therapy with a focus in sports therapy. He was fortunate enough to play international professional basketball in 8 different countries. His passion in life is the development of youth through sport of basketball. Mr. Daniels is a Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist which gives him the expertise to work with collegiate student athletes. His passion is working with younger kids helping to instill the importance of education and proper sports specific training techniques.

This basketball academy was established to mentor young men and women in New York City and affect change in the graduation rate for student athletes who play the sport of basketball. The Two01 Basketball Classic was developed as a tool for the growth of the youth of Harlem, NY. Our founder is here to develop the game of basketball in New York and by doing that he hopes to affect change in some of the following ways:

Building The Future One Player At A Time

- High graduation percentage
- Lower crime
- Lower gun violence
- Improve community awareness
- Lower Obesity in Harlem youth
- Developing a mentoring network

What we Believe:

We believe that competitive sports provide discipline, structure, and great opportunities to instill respect and leadership qualities in our youth

Who can be involved:

We are based in Harlem New York but anyone can join our association and play on our teams.

We are open to all youth between the ages of 8-19.

Age only Programs:

Our young athletes should enjoy sports and play with their peers. That is why we create teams based on age and not weight. We allow players to play with their peers which promotes safety and solid development in sports. Our philosophy is supported by the USA Basketball and the National Basketball Association.

Our Parents:

Our commitment to our parents is to maintain a quality program. We do this through constant communication with parents/guardians and our community members, as well as elected officials. We believe engaging parents promotes their involvement and increases the success of our participants.

Why we're Different:

In addition to sports, we also have programs that help our parents raise well-rounded individuals. Our most successful program, "Academic Accountability", highlights to participants the benefits and consequences of their efforts and behaviors off the field. Our "Character Counts" program facilitates a discussion between parents and youth about character traits that are essential to becoming a responsible person. Lastly, our "Pay It Forward" program provides opportunities for participants to donate to our efforts to open our Westchester county based boarding school for student athletes who play the sport of basketball.
